Report We had 12 enthusiastic hikers on the hike today. This was a new hike for 8 hikers. One hiker was brand new to the Sr center hiking program. Welcome to our group, Brian. At the start the ground was frozen and we encountered some snow in the shady spots along the trail. We encountered 2 large ravens and 2 Abert squirrels on road to trailhead. The last mile we had to negotiate some slick mud and moisture. We backtracked a short distance, having missed one of our Bear left turns. We were saved by the keen GPS skills of Sky. We finished the hike in 2 hrs and took a snack break at the end of hike to take time to clean mud off our boots before entering the van. We returned to the center by noon thanks to the careful driving by Sky. Take time to click on the link below to view photos courtesy of Dr. Paul.

Just a reminder. We had 3 no shows today. Please call the center when you need to cancel a hike. That way folks on waiting list can join us. Thanks for your consideration of others.
